HOW WE WRITE AND REVIEW THE GUIDES

Our editorial standards, how often guides are reviewed, and how corrections are handled.

TYPE: GUIDE REVIEWED: NOVEMBER 2026 TIME: 4 MINUTES LEVEL: EVERYONE

AT A GLANCE

- Guides follow a consistent template and plain-language writing rules. See LIB-07 Brand and Writing Template.
- Each document shows a last-reviewed date. We review the whole library at least once a year, and fast-changing topics more often.
- Spotted an error? Tell us. We review every correction request.

Writing standards

- Plain language, with finance words explained on first use
- General education, not personal advice
- Figures as examples or ranges, never quotes, with the review date
- Fictional examples representing a wide range of founders and businesses
- No promises of funding, approval, rates or results
- Pointers to professionals for legal, tax, immigration and investment decisions
- Official sources for laws and government programs

Review schedule

Topic area	How often we review
Government programs, loans, taxes and legal rules (for example R-05, R-06, B-14, M-13, G-08)	At least twice a year, and when major changes are announced
Raising money and investment terms	At least once a year
Everything else	At least once a year
Program guides (UD section)	Whenever the program changes

Professional review

Guides on legal, tax, immigration and securities topics are flagged for review by qualified professionals before publication and after major updates.

Corrections

1. Send the document code, the issue and, if possible, a source to support@projectunderdogs.com.
2. We review every request within 48 business hours.
3. Confirmed errors are corrected, and the document's review date is updated.
4. Significant corrections are noted in the FAQ (LIB-08).
